UN OBSERVERS
TAKE UP
POSITIONS

During last week UN Observers took up positions on both sides of the Israel-Syria cease-fire lines under arrangements worked out on Saturday 10 June through exchanges by General Odd Bull, Chief UN Truce Supervisor in the area, with the parties.

In the early hours of Monday the Council unanimously adopted a resolution condemning "any and all violations of the cease-fire" and calling for the prompt withdrawal to the cease-fire positions of any troops which might have moved forward after 1630 GMT, Saturday.

This action was taken at the end of the night meeting called at the urgent request of Syria.

Ambassador Tomeh said that Israeli tanks and armoured cars had occupied new localities in Syria more than three hours after the time agreed for the cease-fire and standstill.

Ambassador Gideon Rafael of Israel denied this charge. He said that there had been some military vehicle movement within the truce lines but not beyond them, and that the lines were being scrupulously observed.

The Secretary-General reported that UN observers had encountered Israel forces in the area mentioned, but could not establish whether they had been there at the time of the cease-fire or had advanced there afterwards.

Observers, he pointed out, did not get there until Sunday morning.

General Bull this week continued to press for a return to UN control of his headquarters in Jerusalem.

U Thant pointed out that the Truce Supervision Organization was severely handicapped by its deprival of access to records and lack of direct communications with headquarters as a result of Israel's continued occupation of Government House.

COUNCIL EXTENDS FORCE MANDATE

STOP PRESS

The United Nations Security Council on Monday unanimously adopted a resolution extending the mandate of the United Nations Peace-keeping Force in Cyprus for a further period of six months, ending 26 December 1967.

UN SECRETARY-GENERAL, U THANT, REPORTED TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL THAT HE SAW NO ALTERNATIVE but to recommend a further six months extension of the UN peace-keeping operation in Cyprus.

The current mandate of the 4,600 man force in the Island Republic ends on June 26th.

There was general agreement, said U Thant, that in the absence of the Force at this stage, renewal of the armed strife would appear to be practically inevitable.

The Secretary-General stressed the need for new efforts by the parties to break the deadlock over the basic issues, and warned that the Force could not remain in Cyprus indefinitely.

U Thant

EVACUATION OF UNEF COMPLETED

The evacuation of the UN Force that had acted as a buffer between the UAR and Israel was completed this week. It was announced that the Commander of the Force, General Rikhye, along with two aides and fourteen civilian personnel, would remain in Gaza another week to complete arrangements regarding equipment and supplies.

(SEE PHOTOS P. 7)

Following is the full text of the Chapter, headed "OBSERVATIONS" contained in the report of the Secretary-General to the Security Council on UNFICYP.

"174. Very little further progress, if any, was made by UNFICYP during the period under review in achieving a "return to normality", let alone in overcoming the stalemate over broader issues, but the Force has had no small measure of success in preventing a recurrence of fighting and helping to maintain law and order. UNFICYP's patient and unremitting efforts could lead to more progress were they matched by a genuine desire by the parties to move towards a solution to the conflict. Although there have been no meaningful indications of such willingness to solve the underlying basic issues, it is nevertheless felt that the day-to-day situation in the island has improved since the dark days of 1964. However, as I stated earlier in this report, both sides seem grimly determined to stick to their entrenched positions and set attitudes, the Government treating the Turkish Cypriots as rebels and the Turkish Cypriots regarding the Government as unconstitutional and devoid of legal standing. As a result, for example, hardships in daily life caused by various kinds of restrictions continue to be suffered by the Turkish Cypriot population, while Greek Cypriots continue to be denied access to many areas controlled by the Turkish Cypriots and the authority of the Government is not allowed to be exercised in these areas.

"175. The situation in the island during the period under review has continued to be one of uneasy quiet disturbed from time to time by incidents, some of them serious, arising out of the persistent armed confrontation which is a matter of particular concern in a number of sensitive areas; by frequent breaches of the cease-fire, often deliberate; by bomb explosions and other terrorist acts directed particularly against civilian victims; and by the constructions of new and provocative fortified positions, as well as the reinforcement of old ones. GENERAL ASSEMBLY
EMERGENCY
SESSION

THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S FIFTH EMERGENCY SPECIAL SESSION ON THE MIDDLE EAST — got under way at UN Headquarters on Saturday morning, 17 June.

The opening meeting was brief, with the Assembly adopting its agenda and adjourning until Monday morning when the general debate was launched with statements by the Soviet Union and Israel.

Ambassador Pashwak of Afghanistan, who presided over the last regular General Assembly session, formally opened the emergency session and it was later agreed by the Assembly that the same President and Vice-Presidents of the last Assembly serve in their same capacity in the current special session.

The emergency General Assembly session on the Middle East was requested by the Soviet Union. The Secretary-General, U Thant, convened the 122 UN Members following receipt of the 62nd affirmative answer to his poll on holding the session. The communication came from Belgium Friday morning. According to the UN rules, an emergency Assembly session meets 24 hours after a simple majority of Members have approved it.

While the UN Membership was being polled on the Soviet request for the special Assembly session, the United States said it did not concur with the Soviet request, arguing that the possibilities of Security Council action had not been exhausted and that conditions laid down for an emergency session were therefore not met. If, however, the majority of Members wanted the session, the US said, it hoped the discussion would be fruitful.

This will be the fifth emergency session of the Assembly. There were two in 1956, on the Suez and Hungarian crises; a third, in 1958, dealing with Jordan and the Lebanon; and a brief one in 1960 on the Congo.

FACTS OM CYPERN

OLIVEN HAR VAERET DYRKET PÅ CYPERN I UMINDELIGE TIDER. Der er relativt få store olivenlunde, og de fleste træer, af hvilke der er ca. 2 millioner på øen, findes spredt over landskabet og især på steder, hvor vinterregnens opsamles.

Træet er meget hårdt og lysegult; det er godt til møbler og landbrugssredskaber. De fleste oliven er af den type, der kan afgive olie, og i en god sæson produceres over halvdelen af forbruget af olie til spisebrug.

Mange bønder beskadiger træerne ved at slå på grenene for at få frugterne til at falde ned. Oliventræerne giver årligt olie m.v. for ca. 2 millioner CL.

DANCON's souvenirkantine er flyttet.

Som det nok ikke er alle bekendt endnu, er souvenirkantinen i Nicosia Club flyttet ud i ITO-huset, der ligger lige ved Irish Bridge. På billedet ses fra højre kantinemanden konstabel 576487 J. Petersen, STRR, DANCON II og nu DANCON VII samt tillige Gaza hold XX og XXI, der viser et af kantinenes fotografiapparater til MP-korporal K.H. Nielsen, JTRR, og til konstabel 547358 P.H. Nielsen, DRLR, der også er veteran fra DANCON III, IV, V og VI samt Gaza hold XXI og nu er i Louroujina. Længst til venstre ses MP-korporal E.B. Jørgensen, STRR. De to MP-korporaler forretter tjeneste i Flat House.

"Då mandag".

Der findes ved DANCON en del personel med "skæve" kontrakter, og nogle af disse fik ved en parade på pladsen foran "Ledra Palace" mandag 06 JUN deres FN-medaljer overrakt af chefen for DANCON, oberst-løjtnant P. Madsen. På billedet er det konstabel 683213 K. Hansen, BV, der får overrakt sin medalje. Konstaben forretter tjeneste ved KIH.

Selv om det ikke er spændende at være kok på Cypern, hvor temperaturen i køkkenet let kommer op på 50 grader, så skal maden dog alligevel laves. Her ses to af kokkene fra B-COY, som ser til kalvestegen. Det er fra højre konstabel 628481 C.J. Thøsens, JTRR, DANCON VI og VII, samt konstabel 669435 S.J. Poulsen, SVK.

Specielt for kokkene er hygiejne vigtig, både med hensyn til køkkenet og deres egen person, og fluer bør jagtes, som om det var en fempundsseddel med vinger.

Jagten er inde. Mandag 12 JUN kunne man ved C-COY se et usædvanligt syn. Hele gården var "pyntet" med tæpper, lanner og madrasser. Grunden til dette var, at der skulle sprojekter mod væggelus. På billedet er det fra venstre konstabel 634323 M. Dahlbom, PLR og konstabel 514484 P.E. Laursen, KJFR, der er veteran fra Gaza hold XX og XXI. Konstablerne er her ved at banke madrasser, og på det andet billede ses C-COY's blaflærende sengetøj.

KANTARA CASTLE utflyktmed utsikt om ett slott i sagan ligger Kantara Castle högt uppe på en av topparna i de östra Kyrenia-bergen - som ett örnnäste mellan himmel och jord. En smal och slingrande väg leder sakta upp till delvis välbevarade ruiner, som än idag erbjuder en fantastisk utsikt över ölandskapet runtom och vidade ut över ett azurblått Medelhav. Uppkrupen i något av tornen kan man lätt drömma sig tillbaka till de många medeltida bataljerna kring denna korsriddarborg.

mot saracenerna som ofta hotade med invasion norrifrån.

Sin storhetstid arkitektoniskt sett fick Kantara under lusignanernas tid. De utvecklade en oöverträffad förmåga att uppföra magnifika byggnader på höga höjder, vilket en sentida besökare lätt kan intyga. De byggde också tills ärskilda kungliga slottsdelar ovanpå de tidigare byggnaderna - slottsdelar som skulle bli vittne till månget furstligt familjedrama.

Men nya metoder att föra krig introducerades och Kantara Castle förlorade liksom grannslotten i Kyrenia-kedjan sin militära betydelse. Under venetianarnas tid på 1500-talet övergavs de helt som befästningar.

Ursprungligen fanns här, tror historikerna, liksom på de övriga slottstopparna västerut i bergskedjan signalstationer och så småningom väl befästa fängelsar. De första egentliga slotten på dessa höjder byggdes av byzantinska härskare. Det första Kantara Castle var alltså ett försvarsvärn

Från Famagusta tar man sig enklast till detta norra utflyktmål genom att följa vägen norrut förbi Salamis och Boghaz upp till det svenska OP:t i Komi Kebir. Däriifrån följer man en något sämre men även för "duetter" farbar väg norrut och västerut upp i slingran-

För en utflykt till Kantara Castle bör man göra någon gång under cyperntiden. Det är nämligen värt besväret, tyckerde som varit där!

SWEDISH AND INDIAN TROOPS OF UNEF ARRIVE AT FAMAGUSTA FROM GAZA

FAREWELL TO MARGARET

On Saturday 10th June, Miss Margaret Rowland said farewell to all her friends in HQ UNFICYP. Margaret, who has spent nine months with UNFICYP is departing soon for a holiday in Rome with her family and then intends to motor across Europe to England where she will take up a new appointment. Margaret is replaced in OPS by Mrs Sylvia Nearhau who arrived in Cyprus on 13th May.

Margaret types her last letter for UNFICYP.

UNWRA

REFUGEES

Ambassador Mordechai Kidor of Israel told the UN Security Council last week that his government was facilitating work of the 17-year-old UN relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees on the west bank of the Jordan and in Gaza.

The Agency reported last Wednesday that it had agreed with Israel on the arrangements for continuing its humanitarian services to the Palestine refugees in areas.

Where conditions permitted, it said, limited services had already been started and were being expanded. The agency expected that essential food supplies could be restored and maintained to those refugees who previously received basic rations.

Earlier, the Agency issued an appeal for money and emergency medical supplies from governments and from other sources. Its Commissioner General, Lawrence Michelmore, pointed out that the Agency was already under severe financial strain before the present crisis, and that additional emergency tasks which it had to undertake as a result of the fighting would greatly increase this strain. Meanwhile, at a meeting at the UN Headquarters in New York, the Executive Board of UNICEF authorised the Executive Director of the Child-Aid Organisation, Henry Labouisse, to take immediate action to provide emergency assistance to mother and child victims of the Middle East war.

REPORT

spite of the apparent relative calm which prevails, the present possibility of large-scale fighting is illustrated by such cases as that of Marli and there is general agreement that if it were not for the interposition of UNFICYP forces as a buffer in areas of direct confrontation, the renewal of armed strife would appear to be practically inevitable.

"176. The deadlock over the final settlement of the Cyprus question remains as described in my last report of 8 December 1966. There should be no misunderstanding concerning the fact that the basic issues which are at the root of the Cyprus problem continue to be unresolved and that there is only danger in ignoring this situation. I wish most earnestly to appeal to the parties directly concerned to make every effort to break the deadlock and to cast away the dangerous attitude of complacency with a status quo which I can still describe as one of an uneasy truce. The United Nations stands ready to assist in every possible way, but it is clear that little can be done unless the parties themselves show a genuine willingness to put an end to a state of affairs which, after more than three and a half years, remains stubbornly deadlocked.

"177. Although I have received no official information on the subject, I understand that the dialogue between the Governments of Greece and Turkey on Greco-Turkish relations and the Cyprus question, which came to a halt in the middle of December 1966, has remained in abeyance ever since, and there is no official indication as to when or if it will be resumed. As stated in para. 178 of my report of 8 December 1966 to the Security Council it had not been considered desirable for my Special Representative to initiate any new approaches under his broadened mandate while the dialogue was in progress. However, it is obvious that the situation cannot be left indefinitely in abeyance and that new efforts are called for at the political level to actively seek a solution to the Cyprus question. It was clearly the intention of the Security Council in its resolutions of 4 March 1964 that parallel with the duties entrusted to UNFICYP concerning peace and quiet in the island, a continuing search should be made for the purpose of solving peacefully the problems besetting Cyprus.

"178. I have been disheartened by reports received from my Special Representative and from the Force Commander to the effect that during the period covered by this report some elements of the National Guard and some local Turkish Cypriot leaders have not shown all the necessary measure of co-operation towards UNFICYP thus rendering more difficult

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SOUTH WEST AFRICA

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ON TUESDAY 6th JUNE COMPLETED THE BUSINESS of its fifth special session by electing the 11-nation UN council for South West Africa and appointing Constantin Stavropoulos, UN legal counsel, as acting UN commissioner for the territory.

This was in line with the Assembly's earlier decision that the UN should take over South West Africa's administration from South Africa and bring it swiftly to independence.

Last year the Assembly decided to terminate South Africa's League of Nations mandate over the territory.

South Africa, which regards the decision as illegal, has said she would request the UN to take over.

Those elected to serve on the 11-nation Council to administer the territory were: Nigeria, Pakistan, the UAR, Yugoslavia, Colombia, Zambia, Turkey, Guyana, Indonesia, India and Chile.

of the mandate of UNFICYP for a further period of six months, up to 26 December 1967. The Government of Cyprus as well as the Governments of Greece, Turkey and the United Kingdom have given their agreement to this proposal."

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Text of the resolution unanimously adopted by the Security Council on 19 June 1967:

Noting from the report of the Secretary-General of 13 June 1967 (S/7969) that in the present circumstances the United Nations Peace-keeping Force in Cyprus is still needed if peace is to be maintained in the island,

Noting that the Government of Cyprus has agreed that in view of the prevailing conditions in the island it is necessary to continue the Force beyond 26 June 1967,

1. Reaffirms its resolutions 186 (1964) of 4 March, 187 (1964) of 13 March, 192 (1964) of 20 June, 193 (1964) of 9 August, 194 (1964) of 25 September and 198 (1964) of 18 December 1964, 201 (1965) of 19 March, 206 (1965) of 15 June, 207 (1965) of 10 August and 219 (1965) of 17 December 1965, 220 (1966) of 16 March, 222 (1966) of 16 June and 231 (1966) of 15 December 1966, and the consensus expressed by the President at the 1143rd meeting on 11 August 1964;

2. Urges the parties concerned to act with the utmost restraint and to continue determined co-operative efforts to achieve the objectives of the Security Council;

3. Extends once more the stationing in Cyprus of the United Nations Peace-keeping Force, established under Security Council Resolution 186 (1964), for a further period of six months ending 26 December 1967, in the expectation that sufficient progress towards a solution by then will make possible a withdrawal or substantial reduction of the Force."
